

The Krabooz™ Care Sheet

Hi! I'm Danny Roberts.
Thanks for looking after one of my little Krabooz mates.

Here is the information that you will need to know to take the best care of your Krabooz.

SETTLING INZ:

When you first take your Krabooz home, follow the instructions to set up the home you have chosen. If they have traveled, they are probably dry from the trip, so give them a quick bath of dechlorinated water and then leave them alone to settle into their new home.

Don't be concerned if they bury in and stay there for two to three days, as they will be getting used to the new environment in their own time.

THE BEDDINGZ:

We recommend using our Zuper Zands bedding in your home. Place each of the two-part contents on a side, with both substrates meeting in the middle. In the sandy side, place the Bowlz and Poolz. That way water spilt from the bowl goes into the sand, and when a Heat Matz is placed on the side, it will assist in generating the required relative humidity (60% to 80%). The depth of bedding should at least be that of your largest hermit crab, and an additional 2-4cm can be added in the cooler, molting months.

THE FOODZ:

The Krabooz has developed a staple mix called The Munchiez Daily Mix that consists of a variety of ingredients, and is a great base food. It's also important that you give your Krabooz fresh food. This can include fruits (but not too citrusy), vegetables, small quantities of meats, and treats. They love variety in their diet, so the more you mix it up, the better.

The shell grit found in the Zuper Zands bedding is also a great source of calcium for your Krabooz.

THE WATERZ:

You will need to make sure that your Krabooz always has fresh, dechlorinated water. You can use either bottled water, or dechlorinate your tap water with Krabooz Zooper dropz.

THE SALT POOLZ:

Your Krabooz will also like to have a pool of salt water available to bathe in. You can use a Krabooz Poolz or other dish, not too deep as to drown the Krabooz.

Also, make sure that they can get out of the pool easily.

CLIMBINGZ:

Your Krabooz love to climb, so give them something like a Krabooz, Treez, Shrubz, or a non-treated stick like driftwood to climb on.

SPARE SHELLZ:

Your Krabooz will grow a few mm each year, so make sure you have a couple of spare Shellz of different sizes available for them to change into.

The more options, the better.

HUMIDITYZ:

Your Krabooz need humidity, as this will keep their gills moist and allow them to breathe properly. It's advised that their home have a relative humidity of anywhere from 60% to 80% (it can vary with the seasons).

This humidity can be achieved by allowing them to tip their water Bowlz and Poolz into the Zuper Zands bedding. The moist, shell grit will help with the humidity, especially with a Heat Matz. If the home is still a bit dry, occasionally spraying mist into the home.

You can also get a hydrometer for your Krabooz home that will tell you the exact humidity at any time.

If your accessories like the Hutz and Treez are moldy, then it's an indication that the home is too moist. You will need to adjust the home's openings to allow for more aeration.

SLEEP TIME:

Your Krabooz will like a good cubby to sleep in, and the Krabooz Hutz are perfect for one or two Krabooz.

MOLTING:

Your Krabooz can molt. Some indications are that they have buried under for a long period of time and are generally lethargic, or have less antenna activity. They MUST be left alone during this period and not moved or touched until they re-emerge.

FRIENDZ:

Krabooz like to live in groups, so please, please, make sure they have a few other Friendz in their home.

HOLIDAYZ:

If you're going away from home, take your Krabooz with you!
This is what the Liferingz was created for.

NEVER PULL OUT

Please, don't ever try to pull them out of their Shellz, as you could tear them apart! Ouchhh!

HEALTHY PETZ

Always wash your hands before and after handling your Pet Krabooz. Invertebrates are potential carriers of infectious diseases, such as Salmonella and care should be taken for pregnant women and children under 5yrs. Go to <https://www.cdc.gov/healthypets/> for more information.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE: I'm a very special Krabooz and lucky that we are together.

Please, always take good care of me, and please, please, always love me!
